THE VVonderfull yeare.

1603.

Wherein is shewed the picture of London, lying sicke of the Plague.

At the ende of all (like a mery Epilogue to a dull Play) certaine T ales are cut out in fundry fashions, of purpose to shorten the lines of long winters nights, that lye watching in the darke for vs.

Et me rigidi legant Catones.

Printed by Thomas Creede, and are to be folde in Saint Donstones Church-yarde in Fleet-streete.

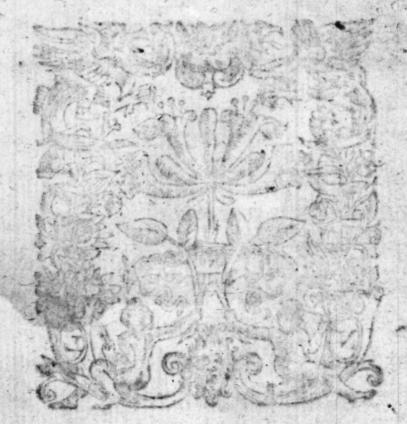

W Vonderfull veere.

1603.

Wherein is the wed the picture of London, ly ing fiele of the uc.

At the ende of old (line a many Epilogue ion dull Play) and tuine Takes are tut out in sanday fullions, of tunpofe to provide the same fullions, of tunpofe to provide the same fullions of the same f

Firms right legant Catones.

LONDON

Frinted by Thomas Circede, and arcrothe folds in Sain an onliones Church, ande in Sain and Fleet-Arcste.

TOHIS VVEL-RESPECTED GOOD friend, M. Cuthert Thuresby, VVas ter. Bayliffe of London.

Ookes are but poore gifts, yet Kings receive them: vpó which I presume, you will not turne This out of doores. Yet cannot for shame but bid it welcome.

because it bringes to you a great quantitie of my loue: which, if it be worth litle, (and no maruell if Loue be solde vnder-soote, when the God of Loue himselfe goes naked) yet I hope you will not say you have a hard bargaine, Sithéce you may take as much of it as you please for nothing. I have clapt the Cognizance of your name, on these scribbed papers, it is their livery: So that now they are yours: being free fro any vile imputation, saue only, that they thrust themselves into your acquaintance. But generall errors, have generall pardons: for the title

A 2

ot

The Epiftle Dedicatorie.

of other mens names, is the common Heraldry which all those laie claime too, whose crest is a Pen-and-Inckhorne. If you read, you may happilie laugh; tis my desire you should, because mirth is both Phisicall, and wholesome against the Plague: with which sicknes, (to tell truth) this booke is, (though not sorely) yet somewhat insected. I pray, driue it not out of your companie for all that; for (assure your soule) I am so icalous of your health, that if you did but once imagine, there were gall in mine Incke, I would cast away the Standish, and forsweare medling with anie more Muses.

professional voluments and a constitution

Africology leromand, adiplication

To the Reader.

theres as found law to make you give good words to the Reader, as to a Confiable when hee carries his watch about him to tell how the night goes, tho (perhaps) the one (oftentimes) may be served in for a Goose, and the other very fitly furnish the same messes.

Yet to maintaine the scuruy fashion, and to keepe Custome in reparations, he must be honyed, and come-ouer with Gentle Reader, Courteous Reader, and Learned Reader, though he have no more Gentilitie in him than Adam had (that was but a gardner) no more Civilitie than a Tartar, and no more Learning than the most errand Stinkard, that (except his owne name) could never finde any thing in the Horne-booke.

How notoriously therfore do good wits dishonor, not only their Calling, but even their Creation, that worthip Glowwormes (in stead of the Sun) because of a little falle gliftering? In the name of Phabus what madnesse leades them vnto it? For he that dares hazard a preffing to death fthats to fay, Tobe a man in Print) must make account that he shall stand (like the olde Weathercock ouer Powles Steeple) to be beaten with all stormes. Neither the stinking Tabacco breath of a Sattingull, the Aconired Ring of a narrow-eyde Critick, the faces of a phantastick Stage-monkey, nor the Indeede-la of a Puritanicall Citizen, must once shake him. No, but desperately refolue (like a French Post) to ride through thick & thin:indure to fee his lines torne pittifully on the rack : fuffer his Mule to take the Bastoone, yea the very stab, & himselfe like a new stake to be a marke for every Hagler; and therefore (fetting vp all. theferests why thuld he regard what fooles bolt is Thotat him? Belides, A 3

Besides, is that which he presents upon the Stage of the world be Good, why should he basely cry out (with that old poeticall mad-cap in his Amphitruo) some summi causa clare plaudite, beg a Plaudite for God-sake! If Bad, who (but an Asse) would intreate (as Players do in a cogging Epilogue at the end of a shifte Comedy) that, be it never such wicked stuffe, they would forbeare to hisse, or to dam it perpetually to be on a Stationers stall. Ear he that can so cosen himselfe, as to poeket up praise in that filly sort, makes his braines sat with his owne folly.

But Hinc Pudor! or rather Hinc Dolor, heeres the Diuell! It is not the ratling of all this former haile-fliot, that can terrifie our Band of Castalian Pen-men from entring into the field: no, no, the murdring Artillery indeede lyes in the roaring mouthes of a company that looke big as if they were the fole and fingular Commanders over the maine Army of Poely, yet (if Hermesmulter-booke were fearcht ouer) theile be found to bemost pitifull pure fresh-water souldiers : they give out, that they are heires-apparent to Helicon, but an easy Herald may make them meere yonger brothers, or (to fay troth) not for much. Beare witnes all you whose wits make you able to be witnesses in this cause, that here I meddle not with your good Poets, Nam tales, nufquam funt bie amptius, If you should rake hell, or (as Aristophanes in his Frog faves) in any Celler deeper than hell, it is hard to finde Spirits of that Fashion. But those Goblins whom I now am couring vp, haue bladder-cheekes puft out like a Swizzers breeches (yet being prickt, there comes out nothing but wind) thin-headed fellowes that him vpon the scraps of invention, and travell with such vagrant foules, and folike Ghosts in white sheetes of paper, that the Statute of Rogues may worthily be fued vpon them, because their wits have no abiding place, and yet wander without a paffe-port. Alas, poorewenches (the nine Mufes!) how much are you wrongd, to have such a number of Bastards lying wpo yourhands? But turne them out a begging; or if you cannot be rid of their Riming company (as I thinke it will be very hard) then lay your heavie and immortall curse voon them, that whatfocuer they weave (in the motley-loome of their rustie pates) may like a beggers cloake, be full of stolne patches, and yet neuer a patch like one another, that it may be fuch true lamentable stuffe, that any honest Christian may be fory to fee it. Banish thefe Word-pirates, (you facred mistrelles of learning) into the gulfe of Barbarifme : doome them everlastingly to line among dunces; let them not once lick their lips at the Thespian bowle, but onely be glad (and thanke A. Pollo for it too) if hereafter (as hitherto they have alwayes) they may quench their poeticall thirst with small beere. Or if they will needes be stealing your Heliconian Nectar, let them (like the dogs of Nylus, onely lap and away. For this Goatifb Grarme are those (that where for these many thousand yeares you went for pure maides) have taken away your good nemes, thefe are they that deflowre your beauties. Thefeare those ranck-riders of Art, that have so spur-gald your dustic wingd Pegajus, that now he begins to be out of Helh, and (even only for provander fake) is glad to shew tricks like Benche his Curtalle O you Bookes-fellers (that are Factors to the Liberall Sciences) ouer whose Stalles these Drones do dayly flye hummings let Homer, Hefod, Euripides, and fome other mad Greekes with a band of the Latines, lye like musketthot in their way, when these Gothes and Getes set vpon you in your paper fortifications; it is the only Canon, vpon whole mouth they dare not venture, nonebut the English will take their parts, therefore feare them not, for fuch a flroug breath have thelee chele-caters, that if they do but blow vpon a booke they imagine straight tis blasted : Quod supra noe, Nibil ad nos, (they fay) that which is about our capacitie, shall not passe vnder our commendation . Yetwould I have these Zoilists (of all other) to reade me, if ever I should write any thing worthily : for the blame that knowne-fooles heape vpon a deferuing labour, does not discredit the same; but makes wise men more perfectly in love with it. Into fuch a ones hands therefore if I fortune to fall ; I will not thrinke an inch, but even when his teeth are sharpest, and most ready to bite, I will stop his mouth only with this, Hac mala funt, fed tu, non meliora facis.

that

stocked and the capable - Louis to the contract of Reader.

Hereas there stands in the Rere-ward of this Booke a certaine mingled Troope of straunge Discourses, sashioned into Tales, Know, that the intelligence which first brought them to light, was onely slying Report: whose tongue (as it often does) if in spreading them it have tript in any materiall point, and either slipt too farre, or false too short, beare with the error: and the rather, because it is not wilfully committed. Neither let any one (whom those Reports shall seeme to touch) cauill, or complaine of injury, sithence nothing is set downe by a malitious hand. Farewell, is the blame that known - fooles heavy on a coferore periodity in one will into the action and the comore periodity in one will into the constant of the comore calculate harpels and read the comore calculate harpels and read to be comore calculate harpels and read to be comore calculate harpels and read to be comore calculated are harpels and read to be comore calculated are harpels and read to be comore calculated are harpels and read to be com-

ne wonde full venire

haule fire e mad in mun

Erunnus being affired in his accustomed Vertumnus habit of changeable filke, had netuly patted God of the through the first and principall Court gate of heavens to whom for a farewell, and to Description of the toe both mutifull be toks in his office, Ia- the Spring. inus (that beares two faces under one hoo) made a very mannerly lowe legge, and (be) will our cause be was the onely Boster at that gate) prefented unto this thing of the Ponethis, all the Rein yearen rifts, tulich were moze in number; and moze worth then those that are given to the great Murite, or the Emperour of Perfin: on went Vertumnus in his lutte progrette, Priapus, Flora, the Dryades, and Hamadryades, with all the tomboen rabble of thole that agelf Dechards & Gardens, perfuming all the waves that betwent, with the fivete Doours that breather from flow eres bearbes and trees, which note began to perpe out of pallon: by bertue of tubich excellent aires, the thie got a most cleare complerion links imag and imothe, and had not fo much as a wart Girking on ber face? the Sunne likewife was feethly and bery richte apparellen in cloth of gold fike a Ubzidegrome, and in flead of gilded Malemary, the bornes of the Kamme, (being the figne Vpon the 23. of that celeficall brive house where he tay, to be marreed to the of March the Spring) there not like your common hornes parcell gilt, Byrealen of but pouble pouble gilt, with the liquid gale that melter from his the Sunnes enbeames, for iop mered the Bartie fing at his windowe curry mance into A-Bioming, the Rightingale energinights the Enckwellike a lingle ries-

Spring begins

fole

fole Fieler, that reles from Manerne to Mauerne) pline it all the Day long : Lambes frifate by and bolune in the vallies, This and Boates leapt to and fro on the Buntaines : to bepheards lat pi ving, country wenches finging : Louers made Sonnels to their Lattes, tobilett theo mave Barianus in their Louers : And as .. the Country was frolike, fo was the Citie mery: Dline Tree (which grow no where but in the Garben of peace flow (as common as Beech ooes at Miolomer) at every mans boze . braunthes of Palme were in every mans band: Directes were full of people, people full of ion : every boule femme to baue a Lozde of militale in it, in every boule there was to much tollity : no Scritche Divie frighted the filly Countryman at midnight, noz any Dans the Citizen at none-bap; but all was more calme than a Bill was ter, all butht, as if the Sopheres had bene playing in Confort; In conclution, beanen lokt tibe a Dallace, and the great hall of the earth, like a Waradice. With D the thost hube felicitie of man! D world of what Hight and thin fluffe is the happinoffe! Just in the miost of this iocumd Wolp-day, a Roune rifes in the Well: Wellward from the toppe of a Risch-mount) Delcended a hipious tempell, that thoke Ce Dans, terrifico the tallet Wines. and cleft in fumber even the harvest hearts of Dake: And if fach great tries were thaken, what thinke pour became of the tender Eglantine, and bumble Watothome; they could not (boubtlette) but dampe, they could not chase but die with the terroz. The Eles ment (taking the Deftinies part, who inder let abjoach this milchiefe) (cowled on the earth, and filling her hie forehead full of blacke winckles, tumbling long byand botwe (tike a great bellyed wife) her lighes being whirlewindes, and her grones thimber, at length the fell in labour, and was belivered of a pale, meas gry, weake child named Sickneffe, whom Death (with a pellis lence) would needes take boon him to nurle, and bio fo . This Karueling being come to his full growth, had an office given bins for nothing (and thatsa wonder in this age Death made him his Weraulo : attirde him like a Courtier, and (in his name) charges. him to goe into the Prinie Chamber of the Englith Duene, to Common ber to appeare in the Star-chamber of beanen.

The Queenes

icknes.

The formous made her fart, but (having an immincible spirit) viv not amaze her : get whom would not the certains newes of parting from a kingrome amage! But the knewe tohere to finde a richer, and therefore lightlie regarded the loffe Her death. of this, and thereupon made readie for that heavenlie Corona tion, being (which was melt frange) melt outifull to obay, that had to many yeares to polyefully commanned, She obayed Deaths wellenger, and periors her body to the hands of death himfelte. She byes, religning ber Scepter to polleritie, and ber Coule to immoztalitie.

(pirit)

Do report of her death (like a thunder-clap) was able to kill thoulands, it toke away bearts from millions: for having brought by (suen buber her tomg) a nation that was almost benotten and beine broter ber; that never shouted any other Auc than to bee name, never fatve the face of any Prince but her felfe, never understode what that strange out-landish wood Change Conified : how was it pollible, but that her licknes Goulo throw abroad an bniverfall feare, and ber beath an afte The general nishment : She was the Courtiers treasure, therefoze be hab terror that her cause to mourne: the Lawyers swood of inflice, he might well death bred faint: the Werchants patroneffe, be had realon to loke pale: the Citizens mother, be might bell lament : the Sepheards Boodelle, and thould not be vappe! Dnety the Souldier, who had walkt a long time byon wooden legs, and was not able to aine Armes, though be were a Gentleman, had briffeld bp the quills of his ftiffe Dozcupine mustachio, and swoze by no beggers that now was the houre come for him to beffice his Gumps: Alurers and Brokers (that are the Diuels Ingles, and dwell in the long-lane of bell) quakt like afpen leaues at his pathes: those that before were the onely cut-throates in London, now Stobe in seare of no other beath; but my Signior Soldado was Deceined, the Tragedie went not fozward.

Pener did the Englith Pation behold fo much black worne as there was at her funerall: It was then but put on, to try if it were fit, for the great day of mourning was let downe (in the boke of heaven) to be belo afterwards : that was but the burnt thew, the Aragical Ad bath bene playing over force. Her Werle (as it was borne) feemed to be an Iland fromming in water, for round about it there rayned thothers of teness about her death. hed none for her departure was to fuopen and to france withat men knew not how to weepe, because they had never bin taught to feed teares of that making. They that durit not freake their forowes, whilperd them; they that durit not whilper, fent them forthin fighes. Di what an Carth quake is the alteration of a State ! Loke from the Chamber of Baelence, to the Farmers cottage, and you thall finde nothing but diffraction : the whole Lingbome feemes a wilbernes, and the people in it are transformed to wild men . The Dap of a Countrey lo pitifullie diffrace ted by the horror of a change, if you belire perfeatie to behold; call your eyes then on this that followes, which being heretofore in private prefented to the thing . I thinke may very worthly thew it felfe befoze you : And because you thall fe them attirde in the fame fathion that they wore before his Daielty, let thefe fewe times (which and then as Poologue to the rea) enter first into pour eares. alizond an oninerfall feare, end her N TOt for applaules, shallow fooles adventure. I plunge my verse into a sea of censure, But with a liver dreft in gall, to fee So many Rookes catch-polls of poely, That feede vpon the fallings of hye wit, And put on cast inventions, most vnfit, ... For fuch am I prest forth in shops and stalls, Pasted in Powles, and on the Lawyers walls, For enery bafilisk-eyde Criticks bait, To kill my verse, or poison my conceit: Or fome smoakt gallant, who at wit repines, To dry Tabacco with my holesome lines, And in one paper facrifice more braine., Than all his ignorant scull could ere containe: But merit dreads no maity rdome, nor ftroke, My lines Thall live, when he shall be all smoke.

115 2

Gunor

Thus farre the Pologue, who leaving the Stage cliers, the feares that are been in the wombe of this allring impooms and in palminial of the

Ling Henry, Edward, Alary, and tiquet guide, qui tran od

Assertable 1 and 1
He great impostume of the realme was drawne
The great impostume of the realme was drawne to a Head: the multitudinous spawne
Was the corruption, which did make it fwell with the li
With hop'd fedition (the burnt feed of hell.) will a river A Who did expect but ruine, blood, and death, when solt on!
To share our kingdome, and divide our breath: an buold of Religions without religion, I was a religion with a month of
To let each other blood, confusion in valuant with an emil
To be next Queene of England, and this yeere is militable
The civill warres of France to be plaid heere in world in W
By English-men, ruffians, and pandering slaves,
That faine would dig vp gowtie vsurers graves:
At such a time, villaines their hopes do honey,
And rich men looke as pale as their white money :
Now they remoue, and make their filuer sweate,
Casting themselues into a couetous heate,
And then (vnfeene) in the confederate darke,
Bury their gold, without or Priest, or Clarke.
And fay no prayers ouer that dead pelfe,
True: Gold's no Christian, but an Indian elfe. Theosol A Did not the very kingdome feeme to shake to bush the Her precious massie limbes ? did she not make
All English cities (like her pulses) beate
With people in their veines the feare fo great;
That had it not bene phisickt with rare peace, bud low 30
Our populous power had lestend her increase. To priest 10 1
The Spring-time that was dry, had forung in blood, a main
A greater dearth of men, than e're of foode; In the min I
In fuch a panting time, and gasping yeare, Victuals are cheapest, only men are deare. in ving Jone !!
Now each wife-acred Landlord did dispaire, al will wood ad
Fearing fome villaine should become his heire, and visus 1A
Or that his sonne and heire before his time, man much and Should now turne villaine, and with violence clime water of Vp to his life, faying father you have feene bons and was all
B 3

King Henry, Edward, Mary, and the Queene, I wonder you'le liue longer! then he tells him Hees loth to fee him kild, therfore he kills him, And each vast Landlord dyes lyke a poore flaue, Their thousand acres makes them but a grave, At fuch a time great men convey their treasure Into the trufty Cities wayts the leifure Of bloud and insurrection, which warre clips, When every gate shutts vp her Iron lips, Imagine now a mighty man of dust, Standeth in doubt, what servant he may trust With Plate worth thousands: Iewels worth farre more. If he proue falle, then his rich Lord proues poore: He calls forth one by one, to note their graces, Whilst they make legs he copies out their faces, Examines their eye-browe, confters their beard Singles their Nose out, still he rests afeard? The first that comes by no meanes heele alow, Has spyed three Hares starting betweene his brow, Quite turnes the word, names it Celeritie, For Hares do run away, and fo may he: A fecond shewne: him he will scarce behold, His beard's too red, the colour of his gold: A third may please him, but tis hard to say, A rich man's pleasde, when his goods part away. And now do cherrup by fine golden nelts Of well hatcht bowles: fuch as do breed in feafts, For warre and death cupboords of place downe pulls, Then Bacebus drinkes not in gilt-bowles, but sculls. Let me descend and stoope my verse a while, To make the Comicke checke of Poefie smile; . Ranck peny-fathers foud (with their halfe hammes, Shadowing their calues) to faue their filuer dammes, At every gun they fart, tilt from the ground, One drum can make a thousand Vsurers sound. In vnfought Allies and vnholeforme places, Back-wayes and by-lanes, where appeare fewe faces,

In shamble-smelling roomes, loathsome prospects, And penny-lattice-windowes, which rejects All popularitie: there the rich Cubs lurke, When in great houses russians are at worke, Not dreaming that such glorious booties lye Vnder those nasty rooses: such they passe by Without a search, crying there's nought for vs, And wealthie men deceine poore villaines thus: Tongue-trauelling Lawyers faint at such a day, Lye speechlesse, for they have no words to say. Phistions turne to patients, their Arts dry, For then our fat men without Phisick die. And to conclude, against all Art and good, Warre taints the Doctor, lets the Surgion blood.

Lady thereof left it: Shie came in with the fall of the leafe, and went away in the Spring: her life (which was dedicated to Mirginitie, both beginning a closing up a miraculous Payden circle: for the was borne upon a Lady Que, and died upon a Lady Que; her Patinitie a death being memorable by this wonder: the first and last yeares of her Raigne by this, that a Lec was Lords Paior when the came to the Crowne, and a Lec Lorde Paior when the veparted from it. Thrie places are made famous by her for three things, Greenewich for her birth, Richmonnt for her death, White-Hall for her flunerall ropon her removing from whence, (to lead our tiring profe a breathing time) stay, and loke byon these Epigrams, being compose,

1. Vpon the Queenes last Remoue

The Queene's remon de in folemne fort,
Yet this was strange, and seldome seene;
The Queene vide to remone the Court,
But now the Court remon'de the Queene.

2. Vpon her bringing by water to White Hall.

T'He Queene was brought by wafer to White Hall, At every stroake, the Oares teares let fall. More clung about the Barge: Fish vnder water Wept out their eyes of pearle, and swom blind after. I thinke the Barge-men might with easier thyes Haue rowde her thither in her peoples eyes:
For howfoe're, thus much my thoughts haue skand, S'had come by water, had she come by land.

3. Vpon her lying dead at Land thereof lett it: So her connects with the last of the leafe, and

He Queenelyes now at White Hall dead, And now at White Hall living, when and digit of thing To make this rough objection even, 1000 311000 and jul to Deadat White Hall at Westminster, 1000 ; saturb 1 300 But living at White Hall in Heaven and to sormy and one Daisz when the came to the Creivine whim a Lee Roide Holde

Thus you le that both in her life and her beath the was appointed to beethe mirroz of her time : And farely if fince the first stone that was layo for the foundation of this great boule of the world, there was ever a yeare ordained to be wondred at, it is only this: the Sibils, Octogefimus, Octamus Annie That 1603. A more same terrible 88. which came sayling hither in the Spanish Are mado, and made mens hearts colder then the frozen Zone, when they beard but an inckling of it: What 88. by whole horrible predictions, Almanack-makers flob in bodily feare their trade would bie biterly ouerthzowne, and poze Erra Pater was threatned (because be was a Jew) to be put to bafer offices, than the Copping of muctard pots : That same 88, which had more prophecies waiting at his heles, tha ever Merlin the Dagitian bad in his head, was a yeare of lubile to this. Platoes Mirabilie Annus onderfull yeare than 88.

Annu, (whether it be past alreadie, oz to come within these fours peares) may throwe Platoes cap at Mirabilis, for that title of wonderfull is bestowed byon 1602. If that facred Aromatic cally perfumed fire of wit Lout of whole flames Phoenix poelie both arife) were burning in any breft , I would feed it with no other Auffe for a twelve-moneth and a day than with kindling papers full of lines, that thoulo tell only of the chances, chans ges, and Grange thapes that this Protean Climadericall yeare bath metamozpholed himfelfe into. It is able to finde ten Chaos niclers a competent living, and to let twentie Dainters at worke, Pou thall perceine 3 lye not , if (with Peter Bales) you will take the paines to braine the whole bolume of it into the compatte of a pennie. Asfirt, to begin with the Queenes beath, then the laingdomes falling into an Ague boonthat. Bert, followes the curing of that feater by the holesome receipt of a proclaymed king. That wonder begat moze, foz in an houre, two mightie Pations were made one : wilde Ireland became tame on the lubben, and fome Englif great ones that befoze fæmed tame, on the ludgen turned wilde : The fame Barke which great lu-Lius Cæfar inclofed, to bolo in that Deere tohome they befoze bund ten, being new circled (by afecono Cafar) with Bronger pales to keepe them from leaping ouer . And last of all (if that wonder be the last and thut by the yeare) a most breadfull plaque . This is the abstract, and yet (like Stowes Chronicle of Decimo fexto to huge Hollinshead) these small paicks in this Set-card of ours, represent mightie Countreys; whilf I have the guill in my hand, let me blow them bigger.

The Divience being honoured with a Diademe of Starres, France, Spaine, and Belgia, lift by their heads, preparing to do as much for England by giving ayme, whill the that arrothes at her alone breft (as they imagined) as the had done (many a yeare together) for them: and her alone pation betted on their fives, looking with distracted countenance for no better guests than Civill Sedition, Propes, Rapes, Murvers, and Passacres. But the whice of fate turned, a better Lottery was drawne, Pro Trois stabat Apolio, God stuck valiantheto bs. For behold, op riles a comfortable Sun out of the Porth, whose glorious beames (like a fan) bispersed all thick and contagious clowbes. The lotte of a Ducene, was paid with the Double interest of a King and Duene . The Cedar of her government which floo alone and bare no fruit, is changed now to an Dline, bpon whole heading branches grow both Bings and Duenes . Dhit were able to fill a hundged paire of waiting tables with notes, but to les the parts plato in the compatte of one houre on the flage of this new-found world! Apon Thursday it was treason to ery Gob faue king lames king of England, and oppon friday bee freaton not to cry lo. In the morning no boice beard but murmures and lamentation, at none nothing but Coutes of gladnes & triumpe. S. George and S. Andrew that many hundred yeares had befied one another, were now swozne brothers; England and Scotland (being parted only with a narrow Riner, and the people of both Empires speaking a language lelle differing than english within it felfe, as the promidence had enacted that one day those two Ras tions (bould marry one another) are now made fure fogether, and king Iames his Cozonation, is the folerme wedding bay. Dappielt of all thy Anceltoss (thou mirroz of all Princes that es uer were og are) that at leaven of the clock wert a king but oner a piece of a little Hand, and befoze cleven the greatest Monarch in Chaiftendome. Powi and . who prigest word that austic -Silver Crowds

4.

beames

King James proclaimed.

Of bliffull Angels and tryed Marytrs tread
On the Star-feeling over Englands head:
Now heaven broke into a wonder, and brought forth
Our omne bonum from the holefome North (Our fruitfull fouereigne) Immu, at whose dread name Rebellion swounded, and (ere since) became Groueling and nerue-lesse, wanting blot do nourish,
For Ruine gnawes her selfe when kingdomes stourish,
Nor are our hopes planted in regall springs,
Neuer to wither, for our aire breedes kings:
And in all ages (from this soueraigne time)
England shall still be calde the royall clime.
Most blissfull Monarch of all earthen powers,
Seru'd with a messe of kingdomes, soure such bowers

Trassivionicioniditycare.

(For prosperous hines, and rare industrious swarmes) The world containes not in her folid armes. O thou that art the Meeter of our dayes, Poets Apollo ! deale thy Daphnaan bayes To those whose wits are bay-trees, euer greene. Vpon whose hye tops, Poesie chirps vnseene: Such are most fit, t'apparell Kings in rimes, Whose filuer numbers are the Muses chimes, Whose spritely caracters (being once wrought on) Out-live the marble th'are insculpt vpon: Let fuch men chaunt thy vertue, then they flye On Learnings wings up to Eternitie. As for the rest, that limp (in cold desert) Hauing small wit, lesse indgement, and least Art: Their verse! tis almost heresie to heare, Banish their lines some furlong, from thine eare: For tis held dang'rous (by Apolloes figne) To be infected with a leaprous line, O make some Adamant Act (n'ere to be worne) That none may write but those that are true-borne: So when the worlds old cheekes shall race and peele, Thy Acts shall breath in Epitaphs of Steele.

By thefe Comments it appeares that by this time Ling Tames The loves that is proclaimed: now does freth blod leape into the chekes of the followed vpon Courtier: the Souloier now hangs by his armoz, and is glad that his proclayhe thall fiede boon the bleffed fruites of peace: the Scholler fings ming. Hymnes in hono; of the Pules, afforing himselfe now that Helicon will be kept pure, because Apollo himselse brinkes of it. Pow the thaiftie Citizen calls beyond the Wone, and fæing the golden age returned into the world againe, resolurs to worthip no Saint but money. Trades that lay bead rotten. and were in all mens opinion biferly bambo, farted out of their trance, as though they had brunke of Aqua Calefis, 02 Unicornes home, and swoze to fall to their olde occupations. Taylozs meant no moze to be called Werchant-taplozs, but Werchants, for their thops were all lead forth in leafes to be turned into thips, and with their theares (in flead of a Rubber) would they have cut the weas (like Lenant Waffaty) and faylo to the Whelf Indies for no worle fuffe to make bole and boublets of, than beaten gold : Daif the necessitie of the time (which was likely to Cand altogether upon branery) Chould preffe them to ferue with their iron and Spanish weapons byon their Calls then was there a tharpe law made amongst them, that no workman thould handle any needle but that which had a pearle in his eye, not any copper thimble, buleffe it were line quite through, or bumbaffen with filuer. Withat Dechanicall hardhanded Malcaniff (feeing the Dice of fortune run lo fweetly, and refoluing to firike whilf the iron was hote) but perswaved hunselse to bee Maitter of bear Warden of the company ere halfe a yeare went about? The work players Boy ftod byon his god parts, fivearing tracicall and bulking oathes, that how vilainoully foeuer be randed, oz what bad and bulatefull action focuer be entred into, he would in pespite of his honest audience, be balfe a sharer (at least) at home. oz elfe ftrowle (thats to far travell) with fome notozious wicked floundzing company abzoat. And got reason had these times catchers to be led into this foles paravice, for they lawe mirth in every mans face, the freetes were plumo with gallants, Wabaccomits fild by whole Hauernes: Mintners hung our fpicke and fran new Juy bulbes (because they wanted god wins) and their plo raine beaten lattices marcht under other cullogs, hauing loft both company and cultors before. London was never in the bigh way to preferment till now; now the refolued to frant buon her vantoffles: now (and never till now) bit the laugh to scoone that worme eaten prouerbe of Lincolne was, London is, & Yorke thall be, to the law her felfe in better fate then Terufalem, the went moze gallant then ever bio Antwerp, was moze courted by amozous and laftie fuiters then Venice (the minion of Italy) moze loftie towers fod (like a Cozonet, oz a spangled bead-tire) about her Temples, then ever vio about the beantifull fozebean of Rome: Tyrus and Sydon to her were like two thatcht bou fes, to Theobats: p grand Cap but a hogify, Hinc ille lachrime, She wept her belly full for all this. Withill Troy was fwilling fack and fugar, and mowling fat benifon, the mad Greekes made bonefires of their boules: Dlo Priam was brinking a health to the fremen horie, and before it could be plengo had his throat cut. Come is no former ripe, but for all the pricking by of his eares bee is pard off by the fbins, and made to goe boon ftumps. Flowers no loner bubbed, but they are pluckt up and bye. Right walks at the beeles of the Day, and forrow enters (like a tauerne-bill) at the taile of our pleatures: for in the Appenine heigth of this immode. rate ion and fecuritie (that like Bowles Steeple ouer lokt the whole Eitte Behold, that miracle worker, who in one minute turno our generall mourning to a generall mirth, boes nowe as gaine in a moment after that gladnes to thakes & lamentation.

Dere would I faine make a full point, because posteritie should The Plague not be frighted with those miserable Aragedies, which now my Soufe (as Chorus) Canos ready to prefent. Time would thou bable never bene made weetched by beinging them foeth: Dblinis on would in all the graces and feptilchzes, whole ranke takes thou haft already closo bp, or thait yet bereafter burft open, thou coulof likewife bury them for ener.

A life and fraging hogro; fucks by the rivers of my blode my haire Cands an ende with the panting of my braines : mine epe balls are ready to fart out, being beaten with the billowes of my teares : out of my weeping pen does the inch mournefully and moze bitterly than gall boop on the palefac's paper, even when I do but thinke how the bowels of my licke Country have bene tozne, Apollo therefore and you bewitching filuer-tongo Dules, get you gone, Invocate none of your names : Sozrow & Mouth, fit you on each live of me, whilft 3 am delinered of this beadly burden: prompt me that I may ofter ruthfull and paffice nate condolement: arme my trembling hand, that it may boldly rin by and Anotimize the biccrous body of this Anthropopha- Anthropophagized plague: lend me Art (without any counterfeit (habowing) gi are Scuthias. to paint and belineate to the life the whole Copp of this mostall that feed on and peltiferous battaile, a you the abofts of those moze (by many) mens fesh. then 40000, that with the birulent poilon of intotion have bene Divinen out of your earthly bivellings : you defelate hand winging widowes, that beate your bolomes ouer pour Departing bulbands: you wofully diffracted mothers that with diffriteld baire faine into fivourse, whilst you be killing the intensible cold lips -

TO VY DIRECTION YOURS

lips of your breathleffe Infants: you out-caft and bowne-froben Diphanes, that thall many a yeare bence remember moze freth ly to mourne, when your mourning garments thall loke olos and be for gotten; And you the Genij of all those emptyed famis lies, whose habitations are now among the Antipodes: 30pms all your hands together, and with your bodies caft a ring about me : let me beholo your ghaltly bisages , that my paper may res ceine their true pictures: Eccho forth your grones through the bollow truncke of my pen , and raine bowne your gummy teares into mine Incke, that even marble bolomes map be Chaken with terrour, and hearts of Adamant melt into compation.

Wilhat an bumatchable togment were it for a man to be bart bp every night in a valt filent Charnell-house thung (to make it moze bideous) with lamps bimly & flowly burning, in bollow and glimmering comers: where all the pauement thould in Creat of græne rufbes be frewde with blafted Rolemary: withered Byas cinthes, fatall Cipzelle and Ewe, thickly mingled with beapes of Dead mens bones: the bare ribbes of a father that begat him lying there : bere the Chapleffe bollow fcull of a mother that boze bim ! round about him a thouland Coarles , some flanding bolt bps right in their knotted winding thetes : others balle mould 200 in rotten coffins, that thould suddenly valune wide open, filling his nothails with noylome french, and his eyes with the fight of nothing but crawling wozmes. And to keepe fuch a poze wzetch waking be fould beare no noise but of Toabs croaking, Screeth-Divies bowling, Mandzakes Maiking: were not this aninfer nall prilon : would not the ffrongett barted man (befet with fuch a ghaffly horror) loke wilve and runne mabbe and vie and even such a sozmivable spape viv the viseased Citie appeare in: For he that burft (in the bead houre of glomy mionight) bane bene to valiant, as to have walkt through the ftill and melancho. ly frets, what thinke you fould have bene his muficke : Surely the loude grones of raying ficke men : the ftrugling panges of foules beparting : In enery house griefe friting by an Allarum ; Sernants crying out for mailters : wives for bulbands , parents for chilozen, chilozen for their mothers: here he thould have met lome frantickly running to knock by Sectons; there, others fear fully fully fiveating with Coffins, to frealeforth dead bodies, leaff the fatall hand writing of death should seale up their dwies. And to make this dismall confort more full, round about him Bells head will tolling in one place, and ringing out in another: The dread fulnesse of such an houre is in otherable: let be goe further.

Den flumber, Chould behold his house flaming about his eares, all his samily destroied in their seepes by the mercilesse fire; himselfs in the very midst of it, wofully and like a maddeman calling for helpe; would not the misery of such a distressed some, appears the greater, if the rich Assure divelling next doze to him, Chould not sirre, (though he felt part of the danger) but suffer him to perith, when the thrusting out of an arms might have saved him? Down many thousands of wretched people have acted this pore mans part? how often hath the amazed huband waking, sound the comfort of his bedde lying breathesse by his side! his children at the same instant galping for life! and his servants mortally wounded at the hart by sicknes! the distracted creature, beats at death dozes, erclaimes at windowes, his cries are sharp inoughto pierce beauen, but on earth no care is opend to receive them.

And in this maner do the tedious minutes of the night fretch out the forrowes of ten thousand : It is now day, let be loke forth and try what Confolation rises with the Sun: not any, not any: to before the Jewell or the morning be fully fet in Giver, burns beed bungry graves frand gaping, and every one of them (as at a breakfast bath swallowed bowne temor eleven livelesse carcales: before oinner, in the same guile are tipice so many more denonred: and before the fun takes his rest, those numbers are boublede Therescore that not many houres before had cuery one severall longings bery belicately furnisht, are now thrust altogether intoone close rome: a litie noisome rome; not fully ten fote square. Doth not this ficike cololy to b bart of a wooldly miser - To fame. the very found of beaths name, is in fread of a paffing-bell: what thall become of fuch a coward, being told that the felle fame bodie of his, which now is so pampered with soperfluous fare, so perfus med and bathed in odoziferous waters, and to gaily apparelled in barietie of fathios, mult one day be throwne (like Minking carion) into arank e rotten grave; where his godly eies, y did once thote forth fuch amozous glances, mut be beaten out of his beat : his lockes that hang wantonly bangling, troben in burt biber-fore: this doubtlette (like thunder) must needs Grike him into the earth. But (weetched man!) when thou thalt fee, and be affured (by to kens lent thee from beauen) that to morrow thou must be tume bled into a Ducke-pit, and Inffer the body to be banife and preff with theelcoze bead men, lying flouenly byon thee, and thou to be bnbermoft of all ! yea and perhaps halfe of that number were thine enemies! (and fee howe they may be renenged, for the wormes that breed out of their putrifying carkaffes, thall craiple in huge fwarmes from them , and quite beuoure the) what ago. nies will this Arange newes brine the into : If thou art in long with thy felte, this cannot chose but possesse the with frenzie. But thou art gotten lafe (out of the civill citie Calamitie) to the Warkes and Wallaces in the Country, labing thy affes and the Dules with thy golo, (thy goo), thy plate, and thy Bewels: and the fruites of thy wombe thaiftily growing by but in one onely fonne, (the young Landlogo of all thy carefull labours) him also haft theu relcued from the arrowes of infection; Dow is thy foule iocund, and thy fences merry. But open t hine eyes thou fole and behold that darling of thine eye, (the forme) turno furbeinly into a lumpe of clay; the band of pellilence bath fmote him even under the wing : Dow doeft thou rent thine haire, blafpheme the Creatos, curleft thy creation, and balely bescendelt into benitiff somanly pattions, threatning in belpite of beath this Blague. to maintaine the memozy of thy childe, in the everlalling breft of Marble: a tombe mult now defend him from tempells : ano foz that purpole, the fwetty hinde (that bigs the rent be vaies the out of the entrailes of the earth) he is fent foz, to convey forth that burden of the foreiw: But note bow the price is distained: that weather beaten lun burnt brudge , that not a month fince fatent bpon the worthip like a Spaniell, and like a bond flane, would have fropt lower than the fate, boes now froppe his note at the prefence, and is readie to let his Malfine as bye as thy throate, to being the from his boge: all the golde and filner cannot hire one of thole (whom before thou biolt (come) to carry the bead body to his last home: the Country round about the thun the, as a Bas THE WEST CHAPTER OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPER filifite, and therefore to London (from whole armes thou coward ly fleoft away (poaft boon poaft muft be galloping, to fetch from thence those that may performe that Innerall Office: Wit there are they fo full of grave-matters of their owne, that they have no leifure to attend thine: both not this cut thy very heart firings in funder: If that boe not, the Mutting op of the Wragicall Act, 3 and fure will: for thou must be inforced with thine owne handes , to winds by (that blatted flower of youth (in the last linnen, that euer he thall weare : bpon thine owne thoulvers mus thou beare part of him, the amazed fernant the other: with thine owne hands must thou dig his grave, (not in the Church, or common place of buriall,) thou half not fauour (for all the riches) to be fo happie,) but in thine Decharde, or in the proude walkes of the Barden. wringing the palite-Chaking hands in Clead of belles, (most miles vable father) must thon search him out a sepulcher.

By spirit growes faint with rowing in this Stygian Ferris it can no longer enoure the transportation of soples in this Dole, full manner : let bs therefoze thift a point of our Compaffe, and (fince there is no remedie, but that we muft fell be toff by and bowne in this Maremortuum) boift by all our failes, and on the merry winges of a luftier winde fæke to arrive on fome profpes rous thoate, and saint send the set : omen to held many south said Imagine then that all this while, Death (like a Spanish Leas gar, og rather like falking Tamberlaine) hath pitcht bis tents. (being nothing but a heape of winding thetes tackt together) in the finfully-polluted Suburbes: the Plague is Bufter-maiffer and Marchall of the field : Burning Feauers, Boples, Walaines. and Carbuncles, the Leavers, Lieutenants, Serieants, and Corporalls: the maine Army confifting (like Dunkirke) of a mingle-mangle, viz. dumpith Mourners, merry Sertons, hungry Coffin fellers, fernbbing Bearers, and naftie Braue-makers: but inder they are the Pioners of the Campe, that are imployed onely (like Boles) in calling by of earth and digging of trens ches; feare and Trembling (the two Catch polles of Death) are rest enery one: Bo parley will be graunted, no composition stod bpon, But the Allarum is Arucke op, the Toxin ringes out for life, and no boyce heard but Tue, Tue, Kill, Kill; the little Beiles SEB

Belles onely (like finall thot) one get goe off, and make no great koozke for wormes, a hundred or two left in every fairmift, or for but alas thats nothing: yet by thefe befperat fallies, what by oven fetting bpon them by bap, and fecret Ambufcaboes by night, the Inite of London were pittifully pared off, by little and little: which they within the gates perceining, it was no bot to bib them take their beeles, for away they trubge thick and threefold fome riving. fome on fote:fome without botes , fome in their flippers, by mas ter, by land, In Choales fwom they Well-ward, mary to Gravesand none went buleffe they be bamen, for whofoeuer lanben there neuer came back again: Backnies, water-men & Wagons. were not fo terribly imployed many a yeare; fo that within a those time, there was not a goo bogle in smith-field, not a Coath to be fet eye on. Fo; after the woolo had once run bpon the whites of the Welt-cart, neither coach no; caroach burft appeare in his like. neffe.

Let be puriue their runnawayes no longer, but leave them in the bamerciful hands of the Country-hard bearted Hobbinolls, (who are ozdaino to be their Wozmentozs,) and returne backe to the flege of the Citie; to; the enemie taking abuantage by their flight, planted his optimance against the walls; here the Canons (like their great Bells) reard: the Blague toke loze paines for a breach, be laid about him cruelly, ere be could get it, but at length he and his tiranous band entred: his purple colours were prefently (with the found of Bow-bell in freat of a trompet) aduansed, and toynd to the Standard of the Citie, be marcht even thoroin Theapfice, and the capitall firsts of Troynouant: the enty blot of bilbono; that Gruck boon this Inuaber, being this, that he plains the typant, not the conquero, making barocke of all, toben he bab all lping at the fote of his mercy. Den, women e chile; en beopt bowne before him: beufes were riflet, Aristes ranfacht, beautiful maiocus throwns on their beds, and rauliht by ficks ries: rich mens Cofers broken open, and Chareo amongst probigall beires and buthziftie fernants:page men blee pagely, but not pittifully: he die berg much burt, yet fome fag be die bery much gob. Howlerner be behaueb bimfelfe this intelligence runs currant, that every boule tokte like & Bartholmerres Dolpitall, Oragon-water (being both of them in all the mosto, scarce worth the pence) were both in every corner, and yet were both drunks every hours at other mens cost. Lazarus laie groning at every mans doze, mary no Dives was within to send him a crum, (for all your Goto-sinches were sed to the swads) nor a dogge lette licke by his sozes, sor they (tike Curres) were knockt downe like Oren, and fell thicker then Acornes.

I am amosed to remember what dead Warches were made of their thousand troping together; bushands, wives a children, being led as arbinarily to one grave, as if they had gone to one bed. And those that sould this for a time, and thrink their beads out of the collar (as many did) yet went they (most bitterly) miching and multied by a downe with Ane and Warmetwood suft into their sares and nosthrils, looking like so many Wores beads stuck with branches of Rolemary, to be served in for Warmetwood.

This was a rare mozine for the Church, who had wont to complaine for want of lining, and note had more lining thrust but on her, than the knew how to bestow : to have bene Clarke now to a parify Clarke, was better then to ferne fome folif Juffice of Peace, or than the yeare before to have had a Benefice. Dep tons game out, if they might (as they boped) continue thele bo. ings but a tweluemoneth longer, they and their pofferitie would all rybe toppen fotecloathes to the ende of the world. Amongs which worme-eaten generation, the three bald sections of lime ping Saint Gyles, Saint Sepulchres, and Saint Olaues, ruibe the roalte moze botly , than ever bid the Triumuiri of Rome Ichochanan, Symeon, and Eleazar, never kept fuch a plague cople in Ierufalem among the bunger-Carned Zewes . as thefe the Sharkers bid in their Parifhes among naked Cheiftians. Curled they were 3 am fore by some to the pitte of hell, for tearing money out of their throates, that hab not a croffe in their purles. But alas I they mult baue it, it is their fe, and therefoze give the Dinell his one: Dnely Bearbe-wines and Barbeners (that never paget befoze, buleffe it were for Maine of faire Wheather, were now day and night bypon their marybones, that Cob would bleffe the labors of those molecatchere, catchers, because they suche sweetnesse by this; for the price of slowers, wearbes and garlands, rose wonderfully, in so much that Mosemary which had wont to be fold for 12. pence an armefull, went now for fir thillings a handfull.

Afourth tharer likewise (these winding-thete-weavers) beserves to have my penne give his sippes a Jewes Letter, but because he worthips the Bakers god Lord Maister, charisable S. Clement (whereas none of the other three ever had to do with any Saint) he shall scape the better: only let him take hede, that having all this yeare buried his praires in the belies of Fat ones, and plump Capon-eaters, (for no worse meat would downe this Bly-sores stomach) let him I say take hede least (his stell now falling away) his carcas be not plagude with leane ones, of whom (whist the bill of Lord have mercy upon vs, was to be denied in no place) it was death for him to heare.

In this pittifull (or rather pittile (le) perpleritie (lov London; forlaken like a Louer, forlorne like a wivolw, and vilarmoe of all comfort: vilarmoe I may well lay, for five Kapiers were not flirering all this time, and those that were worne, had never bin læne; if any money could have bene lent byon them, so hungry is the Chrisge vileale, that it will convere even Iron: let be therefore with bag a baggage march away from this vangerous lose Citie, and visit those that are fled into the Country. But alas! Decidis in Scyllam, you are pepperd if you visit them, for they are visited alreadie: the tizoau Arrow of Death, slies there op a volume, as swiftly as it both here: they that rove on the lustiest gelvings, could not out-gallop the Plague, Itouer, twhe them; and oversturnd them to, horse and force.

Pou whom the arrowes of petitlence have reacht at eighten and twenty lease (tho you stod far enough as you thought fro the marke (you that sickning in the hie way, would have bene glad of a bed in an Pospitall, and bying in the open fieldes, have bene buried like dogs, how much better had it bin for you, to have tyelf fuller of byles & Plague-loses than ever did lob, so you might in that extremity have received both bodily a spiritual comfort, which there was denied you? For those misbelæving Pagans, the plough drivers, those worse then Insidels, that (like their Swine) neuer.

never loke by so high as Heaven: when Citizens boxded them they wrong their hands, and with trather they had faine into the hands of Spaniards: for the light of a flat-cap was more dreadfull to a Lob, then the discharging of a Caliver: a treble-ruffe (being but once named the Perchants set) had power to cast a whole houshold into a cold sweat. If one new suite of Sackeloth had being but knowne to have come out of Burchin-lane (being the common Wardrope for all their Clowne-ships) it had being enough to make a Parket towne give by the ghost. A Crow that had beene seene in a Sunne-shine day, standing on the top of Powles, would have beene better than a Beacon on fire, to have raize all the townes within ten miles of London, sor the keeping her out.

Peuer let any man alke me what became of our Philitions in this Mallacre, they hid their Synodicall heads aswell as the prowdell and I cannot blame them, for their Phlebotomies, Lofinges, and Electuaries, with their Diacatholicons, Diacobi ons, Amulets, and Antibotes, had not formuch firength to holo life and foule together, as a pot of Pinders Ale and a Butnieg : their Daugs turned to burt, their amples where ample things: Galen could do no moze goo, than Sir Biles Bolecap: Hipocrates, Auicen, Parafelfus, Rafis, Fernelius, with all their fuc cooing rabble of Dodozs and Water-callers, were at their wite end, og Ithinke rather at the worlds end, for not one of them durft perpe abroad; or if any one did take upon him to play the bentrous lanight, the Plague put him to his Nonplus; in fuch Arange, and fuch changeable Chapes bid this Cameleon. like fiolines appeare, that they could not (with all the cumning in their budgets) make purlent to to take him napping.

Onely a band of Delper-bewes, some sewe Empirical made caps (so, they could never be worth belief caps) turned thems selves into Bees (or more properly into Drones) and went humming by and downe, with hony brags in their mouthes, sucking the sweetness of Silver (and now and then of Aurum Porabile) out of the poison of Blaines and Carbuncles: and these iolly Pountibanks clapt by their bils by on every post (like a Fencers Challenge) threatning to canvas the Plague, and to fight:

D 3

I he Wonderfull yeare.

fight with him at all his owne severall weapons: I know not bow they sped, but some they sped I am sure, so; I have heard spem band so; the Peavens, because they sent those thither, that were witht to tarry longer boon earth.

Fould in this place make your chekes loke pale, and your bearts thake, with telling how some have had 18, sozes at one time running byon them, others 10. and 12, many 4, and 5, and how those that have bin source times wounded by this yeares insection, have does of the last wound, whilst others (that were burt as often) goe by and bowne now with sounder limmes, then many that come out of France, and the Nether-lands. And descending from these, I could draw sorth a Catalogue of many page wretches, that in seldes, in disches, in common Cages, and but stalls (being either throst by cruell maisters out of dozes, or wanting all worldy succour but the common benefit of earth and aire) have most miserably perished. But to Chronicle these would weary a second Fabian.

notable battaile, with a kind of lad velight rehearle the memorable acts of their friends that lye mangled before them: some shelving bow branely they gave the onlet: some, how politically they retirde: others, how manfully they gave and received wounds: a fourth steps forth, and glories how valiantly her loss an arme: all of them making (by this meanes) the remembrance even of tragical and mischienous events very delectable. Let be strive to do so, discoursing (as it were at the end of this mortal steps of the Plague) of the several most worthy accidents, and strange birthes which this pestiferous years hath brought south; some of them yestoing Comical and riviculous stuffe, others law mentable: a third kind, beholding rather admiration, then laughed

As first, to relish the pallat of lickerish expectation, and with all to give an Item how subden a stabber this rustianly swagged rer (Death) is, You must believe, that amongst all the weary number of those that (on their bare sete) have travaild (in this long and heavis bocation) to the Poly-land, one (whose name 3 could so meds bestow boom you) but that I know you have no

náb

net of it, the many want a good name) lying in that tomen Time of fick men, bis bed, e feeing the black e ble w fripes of the plante Ricking on his flelb, which be received as tokens (from beauen) that he was prefently to goe bivell in the opper world, most earnelly requelled, and in a manner confured his friend (who came to enterchange a last farewell) that be would fer bim goz bandlomely attirde into the wild Irith countrey of wormes, and for that purpole to bellow a Coffin boon him: his friend louing him (not because be was pope (pet be was pope) but because bez was a Scholler: Alack that the Tate I Invies Rand fo farre from Mainerattes! and that a minde richly apparelled thould have a thich-bare booy!) made faithfull promife to him, that he foouls be naile up, he would bore bint, and for that purpole went in-Cantly to one of the new-found trabe of Coffin-cutters, befrake one, and like the Surveyour of beaths buildings) gave birection bow this little Wenement thould be framed, paping all the rent to; it befoze bano. But note bpon what dippery ground, life goes! little bid be thinke to bwell in that rome himfelfe which be bad taken to, bis friend: yet it famed the common law of mortalitie. had to becrave, to, he was cald into the colde companie of his grane neighbours an boure befoze his infected friend, and had a long leafe (enen till bomes vay) in the fame longing, which in the Arength of bealth be went to prepare to another. Wabat eredit therefore is to be given to breath, which the an harlot will runne away with every minute. How numble is lickenelle, and tobat fall bath he in all the weapons be playes withall ! The greatelf entier that takes bothe Bebiterranean Ble in Bowles for his Ballery to walke in, cannot ward off his blowes. Wes the belt frencer in the world: Vincentio Sauiolo is no body to bim: We has bis Danozittaes, Imbrocataes, Stramazones, and Stoccataes at his fingers ends : bele make you gine him ground, though ys were never worth foto of land, and beat you out of breath, though A colus hunfelfe plats oph pour mino-pipe.

Lowitnes which, will call forth a Dutch-man (yet now her past calling for, has lost his hearing, for his eares by this time are eaten off with wormes) who (though his vivelt in Bedlem) was not man, yet the very lokes of the Plagus (which inder are terrible) put him almost out of his wits, for when the inares of this cunning hunter (the Westilence) were but newly layd, and yet layd (as my Dutch man femit it out well enough) to intrap poze mens lives that meant him no hurt, away fneakes my clipper of the kings englift, and (because Bulket fot fould not reach bim) to the Low-countries (that are built bpon butter. firkins, and Wolland chele failes this plaguie fugitine, but beath, (who hath moze authozitie there than all the feanen Cledozs, and to thew him that there were other Low-countrey belides his owne) takes a little Frekin (one of my Dutch runnalwayes children) and fends ber packing, into thole Retherlands the bes parted: D how pitifully lokt my Burgomaister, when he but derliod that the ficknes could fwim! It was an ealie matter to Scape the Donkirks, but Deaths Ballyes mabe out after him fwifter then the great Turkes. Which be perceiving, made no moze ado, but danke to the States fine of fire healths (because he would be fure to line well) and backe againe comes be, to try the Arength of English Bere: his old Randenous of madmen was the place of meeting, where he was no loner arrived, but the Plaque had him by the backe, and arreffed him bpon an Exeat Regnum, to; running to the enemie, is that for the mad tricks be plaid to cozen our English wormes of his Dutch carkas (which had beene fatted bere ficknesse and beath clapt bim bp in Bedlem the fecond time, and there be lyes, and there be Chall be till be rot befoze ile meddle any moze with him.

L. Deseri

But being gotten out of Bedlem, let be make a journey to Bristow, taking an honest knowne Titizen along with he, who with other company travailing thither (onely so; seare the aire of London thouse conspire to poison him) and setting by his rest not to heare the sound of Bow-bell till next Christmas, was not withstanding in the hye way singled out from his company, and set byon by the Plague, who had him stand, and beliver his life. The rest at that word shifted so, themselves, and went on, he (amazed to see his friends size, and being not able to besend himselse, so, who can defend himselse meeting such an enemy?) yelded, and being but about so, the pandes of death, and so to hide bive himselfe in his owne house, whereupon, he callo fo; belp at the fame Inne, where not long befoze be and his fellowe pile grimes obtained for their money (mary yet with more prayers then a beggar makes in the Termes) to Cand and Dinke fome thirtie fote from the doze. To this boule of tipling iniquitie bee repaires againe, confuring the Lares of walking Sprites in it, if it were Chaiftmas (that if was well put in) and in the name of Boo, to facco; and refene him to their power out of the handes ofinfection, which now affanlted his body: the Divell would baue bene afraid of this confuration, but they were not, pet afraid they were it femed, for prefently the bores hab their wooden ribs cruft in pieces, by being beat:n together: the calements were that moze close than an Alurers greate beluet powch: the braining windowes were bango, brawne, and quartred : not a creuis but was flopt, not a monfe-hole left open, for all the holes in the boule were most wickedly bambo by: mine Hoste and Boffelleranne ouer one another into the backe-libe, the mapbes into the Dichard, quivering and quaking, and ready to hang themselues on the innocent Plumb træs (for banging to them would not be fo loze a beath as the Plague, and to Die maides to! D horrible ! As for the Hapfter, be fled into the Cellar, rapping out fine og fire plaine Countrey oathes, that be would bowne himfelfe in a moft billanous Stand of Ale, if the licke Londoner Gode at the boge any longer. But Gano there be muft, for to go away (well) be cannot, but continues knocking and calling in a faint boyce, which in their eares founded, as if fome Caring gholl in a Tragedie hab erclaimo boon Rhadamanth : he might knocke till his bands akte, and call till his heart akte for thep were in a worle pickle within, then he was without : he being in a god way to go to Beauen, they being fo frighted, that they fearce knew whereabout Weaven awe, onely they all cryed out, Loze bave mercie beon be, pet Logo have mercy beon be was the one ly thing they feared. The volefull cataltrophe of all is, a bed could not be had for all Babrion: not a cup of brinke, no, no; cold water be gotten, though it had bintoz Alexander the great: a braught of Aquavie might have faced his foule, the towne benged to bo God that god fernice.

Withat milerie continues ever ? the pore man franding thus at deaths doze, and loking enery minute when be foodlo bes let in, behold, another Londoner that had like wife bene in the Frieida zona of the Countrey, and was returning (like Aneas out of bell) to the heaven of his owne home, makes affand at this fight. to play the Physition, and seeing by the complexion of his patie ent that he was ficke at beart, applies to bis faule the bell meois cines that his comforting frech could make , for there buelt no Poticary neere enough to helpe his boop. Being therefore Drie uen out of all other thiftes, be leads him into a fielo (a bunble of Stawe, which with much aboe he bought for money, feruing in fead of a Willow.) But the Deftinies bearing the Difealed partie complaine and take on, because be lay in a field bedoe. when befoze he would have beene glad of a mattreffe, for bery spight cut the threade of his life, the crueltie of which dede made the other that playo Charities part) at his wittes end, because he knew not where to purchase tenne fote of ground for his grane : the Church not Churchyard would let none of their lands. Mais Ger Thear was Grucke bumbe, and could not give the read a god wood, neither Clarke noz Serton could be hired to er ecute their Dffice; no, they themselves would first be erecited; so that he that never handled thought befoze, got his implements about him, ripped by the belly of the earth, and made it like a grave, Aript the colde carcalle, bound his thirt about his tete, pulled a linnen night cappe ouer his eyes, and fo laybe him in the retten beade of the earth, covering him with cloathes cut out of the fame piece: and learning by his laft wozds his name and babitation, this lad Trauailer arrives at London, belivering to the amased widdow and children, in fread of a father and a hulband, onely the out-five of him, his apparell. But by the way note one thing, the bringer of thefe beaup tybings (as if he had lines long enough when so excellent a worke of pietie and pittie was by him finithed) the very nert day after his comming home, departed out of this world, to receive his reward in the Spirituall Court of beauen.

It is plaine therefore by the enidence of these two witnesses, that death, like a thicke, lets byon men in the hie way, dogs them.

66. 3

· into

into their owne houses, breakes into their bed chambers by night, assaults them by day, and yet no law can take hold of him: he devoures man and wife: offers violence to their faire daughters: kils their youthfall sonnes, and deceives them of their faire wants: yea, so full of trecherie is he growne (since this Plague toke his part) that no Louers dare trust him, nor by their god wils would come neare him, for he workes their downfall, even when their delights are at the highest.

To ripe a profe hane we of this, in a paire of Louers; the maire was in the price of freth bloud and beautie: the was that which to be now is a wonder, pong and pet chafte: the gifts of her mind were great, pet those which fortune bestowed boon her (as being well velcended) were not much inferiour : Duthis louely creature bid a porig man to freblaftly fire his ege, that her lokes kindled in his bolome a belire, whole flames burnt the moze brightly, because they were fed with sweet and movest thoughts: Hymen was the God to whome he praged day and night that he might marry her: his praiers were received, at length (after many tempelts of her beniall, and frownes of kinffolk) the element grew clere, the faw o happy landing place, where he had long lought to arise: the prise of her youth was made his own, and the folemne day appointed when it thould be belivered to him. Glad of which bleffeones (for to a louer it is a bleffeones) he wrought by all the pollible art be could ble to thosten the expeded houre, and being it neerer : foz , whether be feared the interception of parents, or that his owne foule, with excelle of iop, was browned in Grange pattions; he would often, with fighs mingled with kilfes, and killes halfe finking in teares, prophetically tell her, that fure he thould never live to enion her . To viscredit which opis nion ofhis, behold, the funne had made haft and wakened the bridale morning. Dow voes he call his heart fraitour, that did fo fallly confpire against him : lively bloud leapeth into his chekes : hes got op, and gaily attirbe to play the baidegrome, the likewife boes as commingly turne her felfe into a bzive: bindzed and friends are mette together, foppes and mulcadine run liveating by and bowne till they doop againe, to comfort their hearts, and because so many coffins pettred London Churches, that that there was no come left for weddings, Coathes are pront bed, and away rives all the traine into the Countrey. On a monday morning are thefe luffie Louers on their iournep, and befoge none are they alighted, entring (infteadeofan Inne) for more fate into a Church, where they no lomer appeared, but the Drieft fell to his bufines, the holy knot was a tying, but be that thould faften it , comming to this , In fickeneffe and in health, there he Copt, for foraming the brice toke holde of, in ficknes, for in health allthat fimbe by were in feare the thould ne uer be kept. The maideneblufh into which her checkes were lately bied, now beganne to lofe colour: ber boyce (like a co. ward) would have figure away , but that her Louer reaching ber a band, which be brought thither to give ber . (for be was not yet made a full bulband) did with that touch somewhat remine ber: on went they againe fo farre, till they mette with For better, for worfe, there was the worke than before, and had not the holy Difficer made halle, the ground on which the find to be marryed might easily have beene broken be for her burvall. All ceremonies being finished, the was ledde betweene tino, not like a Bzive, but rather like a Loarle, to ber bed: That muff nom be the table, on which the wedding dinner is to be ferued bype (being at this time, nothing but teares, and lighes, and lamens tation) and Death is chiefe waiter, get at length ber weake beart wealtling with the pangs, gave them a fall, fo that by the Hove againe, and in the fatall funerall Coach that carried ber forth, mas the brought back (as boon a bere) to the Citie: but fee the malice of her enemy that had her in chase, buon the went Day following being ouertaken, was ber life ouercome, Death subely lay with her, and (poils her of a maiden bead in fpite of her busbano. Do the sorrow that did round beset him! now was his divination true, the was a wife, yet continued a maidethe was a bulband and a wiodower, yet never knew his wife : the was his olone, pet he had her not: the had him , get neuer enioped him: bere is a Brange alteration, for the rolemary that was waltt in fwete water to fet out the Brivall, is now wet in teares to fur, nith her buriall : the mulike that was heard to found forth dances. can not note be beard for the ringing of belles; all the comfort that: that happened to either live being this, that he lou ber, befoze the bao time to be an ill wife, and the left him, ere be was able to be a bad bulband.

Wetter fortune had this Bride, to fall into the handes of the Plague, then one other of that fraile female fer, (whole picture is nert to be dialone) had so scape out of them. An honest cobler (if at leaft coblers can be boneft , that line altogether amonget wicked foales) had a tvife, tobo in the time of health treading her those often alvay, determined in the agony of a licknesse (which this peare had a faying to her) to fall to mending aswell as her bulband did. The bed that the lay byon (being as the thought: or rather feared) the laft bed that ever foould beare ber. (for mas ny other beds had borne ber you must remember) and the worme of finne tickling ber confcience, by the calls ber bery innocent and Cimple bulband out of his vertuous Choppe, where like 30. frice he fat biftributing amongst the poze, to some, balfe penny peces, penny neces to fome, and two penny peces to others, to long as they would latt, his provident care being alway, that every man and woman thould goe bpzight. To the beds fioc of his plagor wife approacheth Monlieur Cobler, to bnberftand what beadly newes the bad to tell him, and the reft of his kinde . neighbours that there were allembled : fuch thicke teares fanbing in both the autters of his cie, to le his beloued lie in fuch a pickle, that in their falt water, all his otterance was ozowno: which the perceiving, wept as fall as he: With by the warme counsell that lat about the bed, the thower ceast, the wining her chekes with the corner of one of the Chetes; and he, his fullied face, with his leatherne appon . At latt, two of the fighes (like a Chorus to the tragedy enfaing) Grepping out firth, wringing ber handes (which gave the better action) the told the pittifull Action her hulband, that the had often bone him wong: bee: onely floke his bead at this, and cried humb! which humb, fbe . taking as the watch word of his true patience; unrauslo the bot tome of ber frailetie at length, and concluded, that with fuch a man (and named him, but I hope you would not have me follow ber freppes and name him to) the practiled the Universall & common Art of grafting, and that boon her god mans head, they £ 3

timo

two had planted a monttrous paire of invitible hornes: At the found of the hornes, my cobler farted bope like a march Dare, and began to loke wiide: his awie never ranne through the fides of a bote, as that word vio through his heart: but being a police ticke cobler, and remembring what piece of worke he was to bu ber-lay, Aroking his beard, like some grane headbozough of the Parify, and giving a nobbe, as who thould fay, goe on , babe her goe on inved, clapping to ber loze foule, this generall falue, that All are finnes, and we must forgive, &c. for be boped by fuch wholesome Phisicke, (as Shoemakers ware being laide to a byle) to ozaw out all the corruption of her fecret villanies. She god heart being tickled onder gilles, with the finger of thele kind speches, turnes by the white of her eye, and fetches out an other . Another , D thou that art trained op in nothing but fo handle peces:) Another hath bischarged his Artillery against thy callle of fortification : here was pattion predominant: Vulcan Groke the coblers ghoff (for he was now no cobler) to hardy bpon his breaft, that he cryed Dh! his neighbours taking pitte to lie what terrible flitches pulld him, ruboc his swelling tem. ples with the inice of patience, which (by bertue of the blacking fiveate that fode reaking on his browes, and had made them supple) entred very easily into his now-parlous-bnberstanding fcull: fo that he left wenching, and fate quiet as a Lamb, falling to his old bomite of councell, which he had caft by befoze, and Iwearing (because he was in firong hope, this the fhould wing him no moze) to feale ber a generall acquittance, prickt forward with this gentle fpur, ber tongue mends his pace, fo that in her confesion the ouertoke others, whole petes had bene let all night on the Coblers laalf, belfolving oppon him the poe le of their names, the time, and place, to thin tent it might be put into his next wifes wedding ring. And although the had made all thele blots in his tables, yet the bearing of one man falle (whom (he had not yet discouered) fucke moze in her fomacke than all the reft. D baliant Cobler, cries out one of the Auditozs, bow art thou fet boon? how are thou tempted? happy arte thou, that thou art not in thy thop, for in flead of cutting out paces of leas ther, thou woulde doubtleffe now pare away the bart : for 3 fee, that a small matter would now cause the turne turk, to meddle with no moze pasches: but to live within the compasse of thy wit: list not by thy collar: be not home mad: thanke heaven that the murther is reveald: study thou Baltazars Part in Ieronimo, so, thou hast moze cause (though less reason) than he, to be glad and sad.

Well, I fix thou art worthy to have patient Grifeld to thy wife, for thou bearest more than the: thou thewst the felle to be a right cobler, and no lowter, that canst thus cleanely clowt by the feam-rent fides of thy affection. Whith this learned Deation the Cobler was tutozo: layo his finger on'his mouth, and cried pancos palabros : he had lealed her pardon, and therefoze bio her not . feare: herbpon be named the malefactoz, I could name him to, but that be shall live to gine moze Coblers heads the Bastinado. And told, that on fuch a night when he fupt there (for a Lord may fup with a clobler, that bath a pretty wench to his wife) when the cloth, D treacherons linnen! was taken by, and Menelaus had for a parting blow, given the other his fift : bowne the lights (this half-charer) opening the wicket, but not thutting him out of the wicket, but conucis him into a by-rom (being the ward 20b of old those and leather) from whence the buicome cobler (that Desamt of no fuch fpirits) being ouer head and eares in flepe, his Inorting giving the figne that he was cock-fare, foftly out-feales fit Paris, and to Helenaes teeth proued himfelfe a true Troian.

This was the creame of her confusion, which being skimb off from the Comach of her conscience, we looked enery minute to goe thither, where we thould be farre enough out of the Coblers reach. But the Fates laying their heades together, sent a reprine, theiplague that before meant to pepper her, by little and little left her company: which newes being blowne abroad, The lamentable insucrated the olde buskind tragedy beginne till now: for the wines of those husbands, with whom she had playd at fast and lose, came with naples charpened for the nonce, like cattes, and tongues forkedly cut like the sings of adders, sinst to scratch out false Cressidaes eyes, and then (which was worse) to marry her to both with scolding.

But the matter was toke op in a Laverne; the cale was altered, and brought to a new reckening (mary the blod of the Burdeaux grape was first thead about it) but in the end, all anger on every side was powerd into a pottle pot, a there burnt to death. Pow whether this Recantation was true, or whether the steems of insection, suming by (like wine) into her braines, made her talks thus tolely, I leave it to the Jury.

And whilst they are cannaling ber cale, let be le what boings the Section of Stepney hath: whole ware boules being all full of bead commodities; faming one: that one be left oven a whole night (yet was it halfe full to)knowing of thenes this yeare were to honest to break into fuch cellers . Befres those that were left there, had fach plaguy pates, that none burft meddle with them for their lines . About twelve of the clock at mionight, when fpi tites wa'ke, and not a mowfe bare ftirre, becaufe cattes goe a catter-walling : Sinne, that all day burff not thew his bead, came reling out of an ale-boule, in the Chape of a Dunkard, who no foner fmelt the winde, but he thought the ground onder him danced the Canaries: houses feemed to turne on the toc, and all things went round : infomuch, that his legges drew a paire of Indentures, betweene his body and the earth, the principal couenant being, that he for his part would fand to nothing what ener he fate : enery tree that came in his way, bid he infile, and pet chalenge it the next day to fight with bim. If he had clipt but a quarter fo much of the Kings filuer, as he bid of the kings enge lift, his carkas had long erethis bene carrion for Crowes . But. be lived by gaming, and had excellent caffing, pet felsome won. for he drew reasonable good hands, but had bery bad fæte, that were not able to carry it away. This fetter bp of Baltimen,being troubled with the staggers, fell into the felfe-same grave, that Amb gaping wive open for a breakfast nert morning, and imagining (when he was in) that he had flumbled into his owne houle. and that all his bedfellowes (as they were indede) were in their dead flepe, be, (neuer complaining of colde, noz calling toz moze (bete) foundly takes a nap til be lnozes again : In the morning . the Serton comes plauping along, and cafting upon his fingers ends what be hopes & dead pay of that day will come to, by that Which that which he received the day before, (for Sections now has bet ter boings than either Tauernes of bawby-houses) In that filwer contemplation, Managing his thoulders together, he Acpres ere be be aware on the baimmes of that pit, into which this woshipper of Bacchus was faine, where finding some bead mens bones, and a feull or two, that laie frattered here and there; betoze be lokt into this Loffer of wormes , thefe be takes by, and Ginges them in : one of the leutis battered the Conce of the Reper, sobile the bones plaine with his note; whose blowes waking his mustie worthin, the first word that he cast by, was an oath, and thinking the Cannes had figer about, cryed soundes, what Do you meane to cracke my maser? the Serton finelling a boice, (leare being ftronger than his heart) believed berily fome of the coarles frake to him, boon which, feeling himfelfe in a colo five at, toke his holes, while the Boblin forambled op and ranne after him : Wout it appeares the Section has the lighter fote, to; he ranfo fait, that her anne out of his wittes, which being left behinde bim , he had like to have oped prefently after.

Malo A merger bargaine than the poze Sertons bio a Tincker mete withall in a Countrey Downe : through which a Citis zen of London being dzinen (to keepe himfelfe bnder the leethose in this tempethous contagion) and calling up his eye for forme barbour , fpiet a bulb at the ente of a pole , (the auncient bange of a Countrey Ale-bonle :) Into which as good lucke was, (without any relitance of the Barbarians, that all this yeare be fer to keepe fuch landing places I beiling his libonnet, he trucke in The Holf has bene a man Greeke, (mary he could not fpeake nothing but English,) a goody fat Burger he was, with a belly Arthing out like a Bere-barrell , which mave his legges (that were thicke a chart like two piles briven unper London-bringe) to fitable halfe as wine as the toppe of Powies, tohich boot my knowledge hath bene bount twice of theire A leatherne pouch hang at his five, that opened and that with a Smap bance, and was invier a flafke for gun power when thing Henry went to Bulloigne. An Antiquary might have pickt ware matter but of bis Pole , but that it was worme-eaten (pet that proned it to and her his lime, twan per freme verlently that nets thep there be an auncient pole:) In some corners of it, there were blewith holes that thene like thelles of mother of Bearle, and to to bis note right , Wearles had bene gathered out of them : other were richly garnisht with Rubies, Chilolites and Carbonckles, which gliffered to oziently, that the Bamburgers offered ? know not how many Dollars, for his companie in an Caffe Indian boyage, to have stode a nightes in the Bope of their Admirall, onely to faue the charges of canbles. In conclusion, be was an Woll to be lebbe befoze an Emperour, and though be were one of the greatest men in all the thire, bis bigues made him not proude, but be humbled hinfells to fpeake the bale language of a Eapfier, and oppon the Londoners first arriv uall , cryed welcome , a cloth for this Bentleman : the Linnen was fpread, and furnisht presently with a new Cake and a Can. the rome boided, and the Guelt left (like a French Loze) attenbed by no bobie : who brinking halfe a Can (in conceit) to the health of his best friend in the Citie, which late extreams ficke, and had never moze needs of health, 3 knows not what qualmes came over his fomach, but immediately be fell botone without offering any more wardes, and never role as gen of London bring by and gaine. klated edept of Anon (as it was his fathion) enters my puffing Dolf , to rea heue with a fresh supply out of his Celler,) the shanking Can, if be perceived it frome in baunger to be duertheolone. But feing the chiefe Leader propt at his feete, and imagining at first his was but wounded a little in the head, held by his gowify golles and bleft hanfelfe, that a Londoner (who had wont to be the moft baliant rob-pots) thould now be throke botone only with two hopes : and there boon logo him , fembling out thele comfortable . wezos of a foulvier, If then be a man fant a the legges the flies not for all this: twheretopon the Baybes being raifee as it has bene with a bue and cry) same bobling into the rome , like at flocke of Bele, and having boon fearch of the babie given by this bervid, that the man was bean, and murthered by the Plague ; Dh vaggers to all their hearts that heard it ! Away brudge the wenches, and one of them banding had afreckled face all her life time, was persuaded presently that now they were the tokens, and had liked to have turned by her beeles byon it: Dy gozbelly Hoff, that in many a yeare could not without grunting, crawle ouer a threshold but two fote bread, leave balfe a parte from the coarle (It was measured by a Carpenters rule) as nimbly as if his guts bab bene taken out by the bangman : out of the boufe be wallowed prefently, being followed with tipo or three bosen of napkins to brie by the large, that ranne to fast bowne his beles, that all the way he went, was moze greasie than a kitchin-fuffe-wifes balket: you wonlo haus Swozne, it had beene a barrell of Witch on fire, if you had los ked byon him, for fuch a smoakie clowde (by reason of his olone fattie botte flæme) compassed him rounde, that but for bis boyce , bee had quite beene loft in that flincking myft : hanged himfelfe hee had without all question (in this pittifull taking) but that be feared the weight of his in tollerable paunch. would have burft the Roape, and fo be thould be put to a double reath. At length the Towne was railed, the Countrep came botone boon him, and yet not boon him neither, for after they boberfood the Eragedie, every man gave ground. knowing my purfie Ale-conner could not follow thein: what is to be pone in this fraunge Allarum? The whole Willage is in daunger to lye at the mercy of God, and thall be bound to curse none, but him for it: they thoulo one tucli therefore, to let fire on his houle, befoze the Blaque frape out of it, leaft it forrage higher into the Countrey, and knocke them bowne, man, woman, and childe, like Dren, whole blod (they all fiveare) hall be required at his handes. At thefe spaches mp tenber bearted Dofte, fell bowne on his maribones, meaning indede to entreat his audience to be good to bin; but thep fearing he had beene pepperd to, as well as the Londoner, tungbled one bpon another, and were ready to breake their neckes for batte to be gone: yet fome of them (being moze baliant then the reft . because they heard him roare out for Some belpe) bery Delp:rately frept backe, and with rakes and pitch-forkes lifted the gulch from the ground; Coclubing after they had laid their house. beads togither, to brato out fom bolefom counfel that who feever focult beuter byon the bead man e burg him, Chauld bane fortie tillings.

THE WOLIGERENT YEAR

$ 2

shillings (out of the common sowne purse, though it would his a great cut to it) with the love of the Churchwardens and Divermen, during the terms of life. This was proclaimed, but none burst appeare to budertake the dreadfull execution: they loved money well, many the plague hanging over any mans head that should meddle with it in that sort, they all betwee to dre beggers before it should be Chronicled they kild themselves sor sorty shillings: and in that draw resolution, every one with bagge & baggage marcht home, barricadoing their dozes & windowes with stroughes, serve, and bundels of straw to keepe out the pestilence at the staves ende.

At last a Linker came sounding through the Lowne, mine Hosts house being the auncient watring place where he did he to cast Anchor. You must hnderstand he was none of those base raically Linkers, that with a ban-dog and a drab at their tayles, and a pike-staffe on their necks, will take a purse soner themstop a kettle: Po, this was a devout Linker, he did honor Cod Pan: a Pusscall Linker, that boon his kettle-dram could play any Countrey dance you cald so,, and boon Holly-dayes had earned money by it, when no Ridler could be beard of. Hee was onely seared when he stake through some townes where Bees were, so, he knucke so sweetly on the bottome of his Copper instrument, that he would empie whole Hines, and leave the swarmes after him only by the found.

This excellent egregious Tinker calls for his draught (being a double Jugge) it was fild for him, but before it came to his nose, the lamentable tale of the Londoner was tolde, the Chamber done (where he lay) being thrust open with a long pole, because none durst touch it with their hands) and the Tinker bidden (if he had the heart) to goe in and see if he knew him. The Tinker being not to learne what vertue the medicine had which he held at his lippes, powered it downe his throate merity, and crying tribill, he seares no plagues. In her steps, tosing the dead body to and tro, and was sorrie her knew him not: Him Poste that with griese began to fall away billandus, looking very ruthfully on the Tinker, and thinking him a sit instrument to be plago byon, offeed a crowne out of his owne ofone purfe, if he woods bury the partie. A crowne was a threful temptation to a Tinker; many a hole might be frop, befoze bee could picke a crowne of it, yet being a fubtill Winker (e to make all Sertons pay for him, because be would raise their fes) an Appell be wanted to be his guive, and binder ten fhillings (by his ten bones) be would not put his finger into the fire. The whole parifb bad warning of this prefently, thirtie fhillings was fauch by the bargaine, and the Towne like to be faued to, therefore ten Chillings was leuged out of hand, put into a rag, which was tyed to the ende of a long pole and belivered (in fight of all the Darich, who and alofe flopping their notes) by the Deadbozonabs owne felfe in proper person, to the Tinker, who with one band received the money, and with the other fruck the bozo, crying bey, a fresh bouble pot. Wilbich armoz of profe being fit. ted to his body, by be hoiffs the Londoner on his backe (like a Shole-boy) a Shouell and Wich are Manding ready for bim: And thus furnithed, into a field fome god distance from the Towne be beares his beably loade, and there throwes it bowne. falling roundly to his toles, byon which the ffrong beere having fet an egge, they quickely cut out a longing in the earth for the Citizen. But the Tinker knowing that wormes needed no apparell, fauing onely thetes, ffript bim farke naked, but firff bin'de nimbly into his pocket, to fee what livings they had, affine ring himleke, that a Londoner would not wander fo farre with out filter: his hopes were of the right frampe, for from out of his pockets be ozew a leatherne bagge with feuen pounds in it : this mulicke made the Tinkers beart Dance, be quickely funibled his man into the grave, his bim oner bead and eares in buff, bound by his cloathes in a bumble, e carring that at the end of his flaffe on his thoulder, with the purfe of feuen pounds in his hand, backe againe comes be through the towne crying aloud Bane ve any more Londoners to bury, hey bowne a bowne bery, have ye any more Londoners to bury: the Wobbinolls running alway from him, as if he had beene the Dead Citizens gholf, & he mare ching away from them in all the halt he could, with that fong fall in his mouth, con marie

You le therefore hair dreadfull a fellow Death is, making

THE WORKSTRUM YORKS

foles even of wisemen, and cowards of the most valiant; yea, in such a vale stauerie hath it vound mens knees, that they have no power to looke higher than their owne roles, but seeme by their turkish and varverous actions to velicue that there is no selicitie after this life, and that (like beasts) their soules shall perish with their vodges. How many poon sight onely of a Letter sent hom London) have started backe, and verst have lays their salvation by on it, that the plague might be solved in that empty paper, be lieuing verily, that the arms of Dinnipotence could never reach them, unless it were with some weapon values out of the infection title: in so much that even the Mesterne Pags receiving money there, have syed it in a vag at the end of their varge, and is stailed it through the Chaines, least plague-loses sticking upon shillings, they should be nailed up so, counterseits when they were brought home.

Doze bentrous than thele block-bears was a certaine Juffice of peace, to whole gate being thut/ to; you mult know that now there is no oven boule kept) a company of wilde fellowes being lead for robbing an Dechyard, the fout bearted Confable rapt most couragiously, and would have about with none, but the Justice himselfe, who at last appears in his likenesse about at a window, inquiring why they fummond a parlie. It was deliver red why: the case was opened to his examining wisedome, and that the enil boers were onely Londoners; at the name of Lone boners, the Austice clapping his band on his breft (as who thould lay, Lozo have mercie byon bs) farteb backe, and being wife enough to faue one, help his note bare betweene his fore-finger and his thumbe, and speaking in that wile like the fellow that befcribed the billainous motion of Iulius Cafar and the Duke of Guize, who (as be gaue it out) fought a combat together) pulling the calement close to him, cryen out in that quaile-pipe voice, that if they were Londoners, away with them to Limbo: take onely their names : they were fore fellowes, and be would beale with them when time Mould ferue: meaning, when the plague and they thoula not be fo great together, and fo they beparted: the bery name of Londoners being woole then ten whetstones to tharpen the fword of Bullice against them.

I could fill a large bolume, and call it the fecond part of the bumbged mery fales, onely with fuch riviculous fluffe as this of the Justice, but Dij meliora, I have better matters to let my wits. about : neither thall you wring out of my pen (though you lay it on the rack) the villanies of that bamno keeper, who kill all the kept; it had bene goo to have made ber keeper of the common Saple, and the holes of both Counters, foz a number lye there, that with to be rio out of this motley world, the would have tickled them, and turned them over the thumbs . 3 will like wife let the Church-warven in Thames Arete Clepe (foz bes now vali waking) who being requested by one of his neighbors to fuffer his wife oz chilo (that was then bead) to le in the Churche pard, answered in a mocking lost, he keept that longing for hims felfe and his houshold and within the dayes after was beinen to hive his bead in a bole himfelte. Deither will I fpeake a wood of a poze boy (feruant to a Chandler) bwelling thereabouts, who being fruck to the heart by ficknes, was first carred away by water, to be left any where, but landing being benged by an army of browne will men that kept the thore, back againe was he brought, and left in an out-celler, where lying groueling and groning on his face (amongst fagots , but not one of them let on fire to comfort him) there continued all night, and byed mile. rably for want of succor. Por of another pore wretch in the Parity of Saint Mary Ouerves, who being in the morning throwne, as the fathion is, into a grave upon a beape of carra fes, that kayo for their complement, was found in the afternone. galving and gaping for life: but by thefe tricks, imagining that many a thouland have bene turned wrongfally off the labour of tile, and praying that Derick or his erecutors may live to to others; and turne, that have done to others;

His finis Priami, heres an end of an old Song.

Et iam tempus Equâm fumantia soluere colle.

EINIS.